Work Experience

Evolution IT
Mobile Application Developer
08.2015 - 04.2016
Developed mobile applications for a range of customers and platforms, including native iOS (Objective-C) and hybrid apps (Phonegap).

The University of Sydney
Android Developer
12.2014 – 02.2015
Responsible for developing the Android Mobile Application in a Research Project where we would track objects in a video from a server, and notify the smartphone users when it moved.

Education

B. Sc. in Computer Science (Expected graduation 2018)
Mackenzie Presbyterian University, São Paulo, SP

Science without Borders Program (2014-2015)

Personal Projects

Fórum UOL Jogos Móvel
An Android application to browse Brazil's largest forum. This Open-Source project was made using a web scraper, and was for many years the only mobile alternative for the users.

Comic Maker
My first published application in the Google Play store, which was made using IMGUR's API to obtain a list of characters, and received more than 70,000 downloads since its release in 2013.

Dictionary for Android
Simple dictionary for Android that can detect words that you copy and send you a notification with its definition. It works in more than a dozen languages and was well reviewed by Baixaki, one of Brazil's largest download centers.

Volunteering

Tour Leader
Lead a tour of international students around the city of Sydney to present them a few of the city's attractions, and inform about life in Australia and the challenges as an international student.

O-Week 15 Volunteer
Helped students during the orientation week at the University of Sydney. I would answer questions about the university, Sydney, and introduce them some of the clubs and societies at the University.

Languages

Portuguese: Fluent
English: Advanced
French: Intermediate Spanish: Basic
